

If you are a keen club racer then Carbon Sport might be the right answer to your needs. This laminate comes in four styles. It is the successful result of careful assessment of club racers requirements combined with the technical development and innovation, which has strongly been influenced by the proven GPL GraphX®. Carbon Sport is also providing the character shaping base material for its sister Carbon Sport Lite Skin®. Its strength comes from the Carbon based inner structure. Sailmakers appreciate this laminate as an extremely well built and robust material with low stretch that makes it great for racing. In other words: Carbon Sports makes sails fast for longer and is an amazing performer.
